

I Hope...

The battles lost
The titles won
Are pointless now
Those moments gone
Now that it's time
I hope you know
You wrote your name
In melting snow

I hope you tried
Your best everyday
To live in peace
And simplicity
I hope you had
Pride in all your work
And tried to give back
All you took

I hope you know
We're all the same
Just searching for
An end to pain
I hope you know
Security is fleeting
Greed seems so silly
When we're all leaving

I hope you learned
When not to fight
I hope you danced
Naked in the moonlight
I hope you screamed
Just to make some noise
I hope you finally
Found your voice

I hope your wisdom
Told you how little you know
I hope that little piece
Of God in you showed
I hope you made love
Under a willow tree
I hope you picked wildflowers
Off the mountain peak

I hope you meant
All the words you chose
And didn't spend your time
Wrapped up in clothes
I hope you saw a
Sunrise over a rocky shore
I hope you bought
What's not sold in stores

I hope you found someone
To cheer you on
To guide you through the dark
To giggle with till dawn
I hope you tasted the salt
In your tears
I hope you never felt old
Despite increasing years

I hope you checked your intentions
Before you walked out the door
I hope you vowed everyday
To learn something more
I hope you don't
Regret a thing
I hope you got to see
Waterlilies growing

I hope you found
All truth
Is void of
Judgment or fear
And that realities differ
From there
To here

I hoped you'd find
The missing link
The point of life
The reason why
But now I know
That's not the point
The only point is
This point in time

I hope you're
Making up now
For lost nights of sleep
I hope you
Found all you
Were trying
To seek

I hope you watched
Your footprints
Disappear in
The sand
I hope you lived
Your life
On purpose
To the end

I hope our children
Won't be to the thought tied
From the day they are born
They are destined to die
And didn't accept the responsibility
Of an Earthly lie
I hope you learned
You don't have to say goodbye
