Love can speak in many ways
Any way we ask
In the darkest stormy haze
In the hardest task

Through a deep and tender kiss
Lovers close embrace
In enormous chunks of time and tiny bits of space

There are just so many ways
That Love comes out to play
Let us wake and recognize
It's part in every day

Love has shown itself through you
In perfect form and style
Shining on me with your brightly
Glowing face and smile

The Love I feel for you could come out
Oh so many ways
As it shows me what is real
Capturing my gaze

I choose let it light the way
To common heart and mind
It shows me where the next door is
If there's more there to find...

Love will show us everything
All we need to know
In many ways and many more
I really love you so
