

Meeting Place

Paths cross one moment
Points along a strand of time
A meeting place on planet Earth
Patterned in an abstract rhyme

Harmony is clearly heard
And felt as pleasant resonance
Frequencies of light and sound
Fill our bodies all at once

What is the reason?
Who designed this harmony?
Does it really matter how it
Came to merge here perfectly?

One is running inward
One is running out
Meeting in the middle
Impeccably they scout

Along a path of gaining power
Humbled by creation
Tasting times that may seem sour
Yielding sweet elation

Enjoying the seasons
Flowing with the changing sky
Letting go of reason
Growing wings and flying high

In the midst of joy and bliss
A yearning comes for more
Blinding chemistry through kiss
May hide an open door

What comes with relationship?
Chains or sovereignty?
Let's be whole and love the trip
Create a space where all is FREE!

Truth is the reason
Open hearts intent to be
Playful in this meeting place
All dimensions clear to see
