

So Much More

I reached out to touch the stars
You grabbed my hand and said
NOT THAT FAR
Ashes and dust
The drama and all of the fuss

I won't ask you to change
But I can't remain
There's just so much more
I want to walk through that door

It's hard to wake when you're sleeping
It's hard to shine while in your shade
This gap just seems to be deepening
I can't surrender to wait

I stretch for the sun
And wish you wanted to come
And see...with me

I like it when we kiss
But there's just so much more than this
