(verse) Good times, bad times ... (Walkin thru life)
New day, a mystery
Don't try to turn around ... (Walkin thru life)
Keep your feet on solid ground

(chorus) Train to nowhere
Tryin to feel a new sensation
Keep pushin, keep goin
All you really need to do is open your heart

(verse) Time heals broken hearts ... (Walkin thru life)
And maybe you will see Everything that has happened ... (Walkin thru life)
Was really meant to be (instrumental chorus) <----->

(verse) True friends it seems sometimes ... (Walkin thru life)
Are very far and few
But those who understand ... (Walkin thru life)
Will always come for you

(chorus) Train to nowhere
Tryin to find that new sensation
Keep pushin, keep goin

(sort of a
"rap" style recital.....

limit the vocal spectrum
so it sounds like an old phone speaker)

You get in the car, and drive off to work
You picked up a ticket, your boss is a jerk

You go to the store, and back to your house
You locked in your keys, you piss off your spouse

Your taxes are due, you can't breathe the air
You're chokin, I'm chokin, we're chokin, we're chokin!

What's goin on?...What's goin on?

Open your heart, open your heart
It's time to make a brand new start

Today has been good, in fact it's been great Tomorrow is coming, let's stop with the hate

Time may be short, so cherish each day
Tomorrow may find you far far away...

(ending) < ----instrumental verse, repeat and fade out----->
